

Local Government Insurance Trust-MD Annual Meeting
Thursday, November 20, 2008, 1:30pm-3:30pm
 Annapolis, Maryland

Session Title: Communities Going Green Too!

Description: Going green is in the minds of many people, whether its gas efficient cars, recycling, or getting e-statements. But what can local governments do to become MORE green? This panel session is designed to showcase ways in which communities are engaging in the going green movement through building innovative partnerships, providing unique incentives, and thinking outside the box.

1:30-1:45: Introduction and Overview of the learning objectives
 Vicky Carrasco: Coastal Communities Specialist, MD Sea Grant Extension
 Sasha Land: Coastal Training Program Coordinator, MD Dept of Natural Resources

Presentations:

- 1:45-2:15 Local Governments Going Green: Sustainability and Florida's Green Certification Program and Green Government Designation
 Bert Henderson: Green Real Estate Education, Director of Education
 Formerly with University of Florida Extension Service
- 2:15-2:45 Sustainable Annapolis: How the city of Annapolis is paving the way for a more sustainable future
 Maria Broadbent: Environmental Program Coordinator: City of Annapolis
 Rob Savidge: Sustainability Coordinator: City of Annapolis
- 2:45-3:15 Communities on the road to becoming "Green": Cumberland, MD
 Kathy McKenney: Historic Planner/Preservation Coordinator:
 City of Cumberland
- 3:15-3:30 Questions, Wrap-up and Evaluations